RGV MOVIE/BOOK CLUB

GENRE: FAMILY, SPORTS

Kyle Cooke is a kind-hearted young boy and a gifted baseball player. When his father, Ted, is laid off and forced to take a low-level job in a new state just to make ends meet, Kyle and his family are uprooted from their comfortable suburban lifestyle. Ted hopes that Kyle's acclimation will be made easier once he gets involved with the local baseball teams but those plans are quickly dashed when Kyle becomes the victim of bullying and nepotism. Realizing Kyle will never get a chance to pursue his dream of playing in the twelve-year-old World Series if he stays in the local league, Ted finagles a way to get Kyle on a team in an opposing district. Kyle, understanding this is his one and only shot, uses the dejection of being cut from his town's all-star team as motivation to become the best twelve year-old player in the state - possibly the world. Ultimately, he faces his former team in the state championship where he discovers a greatness he didn't even know he possessed. Very moving and enlightening. Shows what it takes to be really good at something.

MARCH 2024

THIS MONTH A FALLEN SOLDIERS TABLE WAS INSTALLED IN OUR CLUBHOUSE AS A JOINT VENTURE BETWEEN COVE AND THE HOA TO HONOR THE SACRIFICE OF THOSE VETERANS WHO ARE NO LONGER WITH US TO CELEBRATE OUR MANY BLESSINGS.

The Fallen Soldiers Table

Those who have served, and those currently serving in the uniformed services of the United States, are ever mindful that the sweetness of enduring peace has always been tainted by the bitterness of personal sacrifice.

They are compelled to never forget that while we enjoy our daily pleasures, others have endured or may be still enduring the agonies of pain and internment.

We call attention to this small table which occupies a place of dignity and honor.

The table cloth is white, the purity of their intentions in response to their country's call to arms.

The single rose in a vase signifies the blood they may have shed for our freedom.

The slice of lemon signifies their bitter fate.

The salt reminds us of the many countless tears of families as they wait.

The glass inverted, they can't drink with us tonight.

The chair is empty, they are not here.

Let us not forget the sacrifices of those and their families.

SONS OF THUNDER

AN HISTORICAL NOVEL (CONTINUED)

Saluting the flag and turning to salute the OOD I said,
"Permission to come aboard Sir?"
Retuning the salute,
"Granted, who is this, Mike?"
He asked.

Looking at John with a smile,
I said, "my dad, sir. Permission to bring him aboard? His name is John, sir." "Granted, welcome aboard John." He replied.
Looking at me and smiling back, John said, "thank you, sir."
"Come let us go to the mess deck, and I will buy you a cup of coffee." I said. Heads turned in curiosity as we came through the hatch. Jimmy was there eating early mess, seeing us he said "Hey Mike over here" motioning us to seats at his table. "John this is my best friend, Jimmy."

"James nice to meet you son, my brother's name was James." He said. "No need to be formal John, Jimmy is fine with me." John just smiled in response. "Mike, is this the John, you told me about?" Jimmy asked. Shaking my head in reply I said "Yes."
"Holy cow, John a pleasure to meet you, you know Mike thinks the world of you." Jimmy said. John turned to me, smiled, and said, "and I think the world of him also." "Are You hungry John?" Jimmy asked, "chow is not bad aboard this ship, we got some good cooks." "I am sure they are Jimmy, but a cup of tea would be great." John replied. "I'll see what I can rustle up," Jimmy said.

As we sat down John Turning to me asked, "Tell me about Rebecca, Michael. Your mother read us your letter."

"Well John," I said, "I met her last summer. You hear stories of love at first sight, and until I saw her, I would not have believed it possible.

MARCH 2024

But when I saw her my heart started pounding so hard, I thought it was going to jump out of my chest. And when she came over to talk to me, I knew she was the one.” John replied, “I guess so, I can see it in your eyes, the way they light up when you talk about her.” “John, when I am with her, all the madness of this world, and the war just disappears. And when I am away from her, all the madness comes back and my heart aches to be with her again. John, have you ever felt for someone, that if asked, you would give up your life for them?” Smiling reflectively, John replied, “Yes Michael, I have.” “That is how I feel about her John. Wait until you meet her tomorrow, you will see what I mean.”

Jimmy returning with the tea asked, “Where are you staying John?” “I haven’t given it much thought Jimmy; I just arrived this afternoon.” John replied. “Do not give it any more thought, we have an extra bedroom at my house you can stay with us. Jimmy suggested. What time do you have to leave?” Jimmy asked. “I have to have him back at the main gate no later than 20:00 hours.” “I don’t want to impose Jimmy.” John said. “Don’t worry about it, Carol will love your company, I will also tell her to bring Rebecca, and you three can get to know each other.” “Great idea Jimmy.” I said. “I’ll go call her now, be back in a bit.” Jimmy said.

“John, tell me about home,” I asked. “Well Michael,” John started, “your mother is well, but she worries about you and Peter.” “Pete?” I asked inquisitively. “He joined the Marines shortly after the attack was announced.” “The Marines, Is he crazy? He will get himself killed if he is not careful, I will pray that God watches over him.” I said. “He will watch over the both of you” John said. “I also have some bad news Michael,” John said, “your father passed away last month.” “I hope he is in a better place, as his time here wasn’t very pleasant.” I replied.

MARCH 2024

“I am sure he is Michael, he had too many demons in his life, but I can tell you with all honesty, as he told me before he past, to let you know that you and Peter were his pride and joy.” John said. “I wish I had had the time to make amends with him. I was quite angry with him when I left.” I said. “I think he understood that Michael.”

Oh, I almost forgot, your mom asked me to give this to you.” John said pulling a small package from his bag. “What is it?” I asked opening the package with anxious hands. “Christmas cookies!” I exclaimed aloud. Suddenly I had the attention of everyone on the mess deck. “Come and get it guys, homemade Christmas cookies” I grabbed a few for Jimmy and me before they were all gone, I set them on the table next to ours.

“Everything is set, the girls will be here in an hour.” Jimmy said as he came back into the mess hall. “So, John, has Mike given you the nickel tour of the ship? Jimmy asked.

“Not yet Jimmy,” I replied, “we were waiting for you.” “John, after you finish your tea let’s stop by the electrical shack and we can drop off your bag there, so you don’t have to carry that around with you.” I said.

Walking down the starboard side aft I opened the hatch and leading him in I said, “This is where the electrician’s mates work out of, it is also our aft damage control locker.” John looked at me inquisitively, so I said, “During battle stations this is one of the spaces we man to fight fires, rescue the wounded and repair any battle damage inflicted by the enemy.” John nodded his head in understanding.

John turned to me and asked, “Can I see the engine room? “Sure, leave your stuff here” I said, “the engine room is the heart, and my favorite part of the ship, and my duty station during battle stations.”

As I slid down the ladder to the first lower deck, I waited for John and Jimmy to catch up, he commented,” Quite warm down here, is it not, Michael?” “Not too bad,” I replied, “it gets a lot warmer down here when we are underway.”

MARCH 2024

“From here we can get a panoramic view of the entire engine room.” I continued, “over there to the left, or the forward part, are the boilers, they provide the steam to run pretty much everything. Below and in front of us are two of our three generators, they make our electricity. Over on the starboard side is the main switchboard that distributes the electricity. That is my station during battle stations. Directly aft of the generators are the main turbines, that turn the propellers. Directly below us are two of the fire pumps that give us water pressure to fight any fires that may result from battle damage. Directly aft of them is the freshwater condenser, which makes fresh water from sea water.” “The best water on the planet.” Jimmy commented.

“John, let’s get you topside before you melt, you’re not looking so well.” “Sounds good to me, Michael.” he said.

Back up on the main deck, John started to get his color back.

“You’re looking better John.” Jimmy commented.

“Let’s go up forward to the bow, it’s a lot cooler up there.” I said.

Once there, John commented. “Oh my God, this is the first that I have seen of the damage in the harbor, it must have been a terrible way to die for so many.”

“Over 2400 men died out their John, there ghosts will haunt this place until they are avenged.” “I don’t think man will ever learn.” John said. “I think your right John.” I replied.

“Mike, it has been about forty-five minutes, I think we should be heading towards the main gate. By the time we get there, the girls should be there also.” Jimmy said.

We stopped by the electrical shack to pick up John’s things, then headed for the quarter-deck. Saluting the flag and then the OOD I said, “Request permission to go ashore sir?” “Granted.” Was his reply.

MARCH 2024

As we approached the main gate, we could see the girls on the other side. When they saw us, they waved, and we waved back to them. As we approached it, the watch opened the gate. Jumping into my arms, Rebecca planted one on me then whispered in my ear, "I missed you, my love."

"Missed you too." I said, as I turned to introduce her to John.

"Sweetheart this is John." Turning to him she extended her hand to him and said, "I am very pleased to meet you John, Michael has told me so much about you." "Very pleased to meet you as well Rebecca, Michael has been telling me of you also." John said with a smile as he took her hand.

After a few minutes I said, "Jimmy and I need to get back to the ship."

"Don't worry about a thing, we will take good care of John; besides, I have a million questions of him." She said smiling. "I will see you tomorrow sweetheart," as we kissed.

I turned to Jimmy as he was saying his goodbyes to Carol and said, "let's go buddy."

"So, John, Michael said you have been in his life since he was a little boy." Rebecca asked the first of her million questions. "Yes, I live in their building back in Brooklyn. I first met his family when he was about five. His mother is deeply religious and devoted to Michael and his brother. I told him a little while ago that his brother Peter joined the Marines."

"Michael tells me that he was not close to his dad, and that you have been more of a father to him than his biological one." She asked. "That is truly kind of him, I am very fond of him, and his brother. Michael reminds me a lot of my brother when we were young, always so protective of his little brother. I also had to tell him that his father passed away last month. I was with him at the end. I told Michael how sorry he was that he was not a better father and how proud he was of them both."

MARCH 2024

“So sad. Is Michael alright?” Rebecca asked. “Yes, just sad that he could not have been with him at the end.” John replied.

“How long are you here for John? Rebecca asked. “I am going to see Michael’s brother Peter, after the first of the year, He wrote me that he was being sent to San Diego after basic training. I will visit with him a few days before returning to New York.” John replied.

“Can I ask you a really big favor John?” Rebecca asked. “If I can Rebecca, I will be glad too.” John replied.

“My parents cannot be here for the wedding, and I was hoping that you might visit with them in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and let them know all is well.” Rebecca asked.

“I would be happy to Rebecca; my train stops in Chicago and Toledo. I could easily make a stopover in Fort Wayne.” John said.

“Great, thank you John, I will call them later to introduce you to them. Also, I really appreciate you filling in for my Dad and walking me down the aisle, Michael was genuinely concerned about that. Your visit is very opportune. As you can see this will be a very small wedding party.” Rebecca replied. “My pleasure Rebecca.” John said.

“Michael tells me that the book of John is your favorite book in the bible. It is mine as well, but I also like Matthew Chapters 5 through 8.” Rebecca said. “Ah, yes, Our Lord’s sermon on the mount. I think that it sums up His entire mission on earth.” John replied. “Are you religious Rebecca?” John asked. “Not as much as I should be. I try to get to mass every Sunday, but lately my work has kept me quite busy.” She replied. “A Nurse is a noble calling and unfortunately quite necessary now. I think He will understand.” John said.

“Do you recall the story of the wedding at Cana Rebecca?” John asked. “Yes, I think so.” Rebecca replied.

MARCH 2024

“It was also a small wedding like yours, and it was also in a turbulent time. The Roman’s occupied the land and they were also a brutal people.” John said. “The young couple was poor monetarily, but like you and Michael rich in spirit and love.” He continued. “Their parents were friends of Jesus’ Mother, and She asked Him and His disciples to attend. It is written that when the wine ran out, His mother asked Him to intercede. He did by making choice wine from water. But what was not written was that He blessed the couple with happiness, and a long life of love together, which they had. I am sure that like them he will bless you and Michael with the same,” John concluded.

“How do you know of the things that were not written in the books of the bible?” Rebecca asked. “I am a theologian, my dear, and there are many other texts, other than the bible that I have read and written.” He replied. “You are fascinating John, I would very much like to read these other texts you speak of.” Rebecca commented.

“I read them to Michael when he was younger. I will send them to you when I return home.” John said.

“It is getting late folks. John let me get you settled in the spare bedroom, so I can get Rebecca back to her home.” Carol said. By the time Carol returned, John was fast asleep.

28 December

08:00

Coming off watch, I decide to get some breakfast before showering. Arriving in the mess hall I saw that Jimmy was already there, so I joined him after I got my chow. “Morning Jimmy, you’re up early for a Sunday.” “Yeah, I had the engine room watch.” He replied. “Great, we are both going to be wiped out by this afternoon.” I said. “I don’t think so, I got butterflies and I’m not the one getting married.” Jimmy replied.
